The Mission of the College

The mission of Georgetown College is to prepare students to engage in their life's pursuits with thoughtfulness and skill by providing an exceptional educational experience in a vibrant Christian community. Distinguished by its emphasis on outstanding teaching and mentoring, the College offers excellent academic programs in the liberal arts, sciences, and professions.

Fulfilling its distinctive mission with the liberal arts, sciences, and professions, Georgetown College's aim is to continue to be one of the finest Christian colleges in the country.

Student Life Mission

Engaging students to live, learn and believe in an inclusive and supportive community.

Georgetown College Non-Discrimination Statement

As a Christian institution, Georgetown College builds community through admissions, hiring and promotion policies based on merit, qualification, and character. As a matter of policy and in compliance with state and federal laws, Georgetown College operates on the principle of non-discrimination. Georgetown College does not discriminate, either in the admission of students, hiring and promotion of employees, or in the administration of any educational policies, programs, or activities on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, age, disability, or veteran status. Because the College is primarily residential in nature, Georgetown College reserves the right to restrict admissions to undergraduate programs on the basis of sex due to limitations in the availability of campus housing, if necessary. The College may use religion as a factor in making faculty employment decisions and in Board of Trustees appointments. This policy is in compliance with Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act. Inquiries or concerns should be directed to the Director of Human Resources or the Title IX Coordinator at 502-863-8000.

Family Educational Right and Privacy Act (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords eligible students certain rights with respect to their education records. (An "eligible student" under FERPA is a student who is 18 years of age or older or who attends a postsecondary institution.) These rights include:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days after the day Georgetown College ("College") receives a request for access. A student should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic department, or other appropriate official, a written request that identifies the record(s) the student wishes to inspect. The College official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the College official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.
2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes is inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student's privacy rights under FERPA. A student who wishes to ask the College to amend a record should write the College official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record the student wants changed, and specify why it should be changed. If the College decides not to amend the record as requested, the College will notify the student in writing of the decision and the student's right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. The right to provide written consent before the College discloses personally identifiable information (PII) from the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. The College discloses education records without a student's prior written consent under the FERPA exception for disclosure to College officials with legitimate educational interests. A College official is a person employed by Georgetown College in an administrative, supervisory, academic, research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person serving on the board of trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee. A College official also may include a volunteer or contractor outside of Georgetown College who performs an institutional service of function for which the College would otherwise use its own employees and who is under the direct control of the College with respect to the use and maintenance of PII from education records, such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent, or a student volunteering to assist another College official in performing his or her tasks. A College official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities for Georgetown College.
4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Georgetown College to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is:
Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education 400 Maryland Avenue,
SW
Washington, DC 20202

See the list below of the disclosures that postsecondary institutions may make without consent.

FERPA permits the disclosure of PII from students' education records, without consent of the student, if the disclosure meets certain conditions found in §99.31 of the FERPA regulations. Except for disclosures to College officials, disclosures related to some judicial orders or lawfully issued subpoenas, disclosures of directory information, and disclosures to the student, §99.32 of FERPA regulations requires the institution to record the disclosure. Eligible students have a right to inspect and review the record of disclosures. A postsecondary institution may disclose PII from the education records without obtaining prior written consent of the student:

- To other College officials, including teachers, within Georgetown College whom the College has determined to have legitimate educational interests. This includes contractors, consultants, volunteers, or other parties to whom the College has outsourced institutional services or functions, provided that the conditions listed in §99.31(a)(1)(i)(B)(1) - (a)(1)(i)(B)(2) are met. (§99.31(a)(1))
- To officials of another College where the student seeks or intends to enroll, or where the student is already enrolled if the disclosure is for purposes related to the student's enrollment or transfer, subject to the requirements of §99.34. (§99.31(a)(2))
- To authorized representatives of the U.S. Comptroller General, the U.S. Attorney General, the U.S. Secretary of Education, or State and local educational authorities, such as a State postsecondary authority that is responsible for supervising the university's State-supported education programs. Disclosures under this provision may be made, subject to the requirements of §99.35, in connection with an audit or evaluation of Federal or State supported education programs, or for the enforcement of or compliance with Federal legal requirements that relate to those programs. These entities may make further disclosures of PII to outside entities that are designated by them as their authorized representatives to conduct any audit, evaluation, or enforcement or compliance activity on their behalf. (§§99.31(a)(3) and 99.35)
- In connection with financial aid for which the student has applied or which the student has received, if the information is necessary to determine eligibility for the aid, determine the amount of the aid, determine the conditions of the aid, or enforce the terms and conditions of the aid. (§99.31(a)(4))
- To organizations conducting studies for, or on behalf of, the College, in order to: (a) develop, validate, or administer predictive tests; (b) administer student aid programs; or (c) improve instruction. (§99.31(a)(6))
- To accrediting organizations to carry out their accrediting functions. (§99.31(a)(7))
- To parents of an eligible student if the student is a dependent for IRS tax purposes. (§99.31(a)(8))

- To comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena. (§99.31(a)(9))
- To appropriate officials in connection with a health or safety emergency, subject to §99.36. (§99.31(a)(10))
- Information the College has designated as “directory information” under §99.37. (§99.31(a)(11))

The College has designated certain information contained in the education records of its students as directory information for purposes of compliance with FERPA. The following constitutes directory information regarding students:

- name,
- home address,
- campus address,
- telephone number and e-mail address,
- picture,
- date and place of birth,
- major field of study,
- participation in officially recognized activities and sports,
- weight and height of athletic team members,
- dates of attendance and full-time/half-time enrollment status,
- degrees and awards received,
- the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended by the student,
- denominational preference, and
- Other similar information as determined by the FERPA compliance officer.

Directory information may be disclosed by Georgetown College for any purpose at its discretion, without the consent of a parent of a student or an eligible student. However, parents of students and eligible students have the right to refuse to permit the designation of any or all of the above information as directory information. In that case, this information will not be disclosed except with the consent of a parent or student, or as otherwise allowed by FERPA. Any parent or student refusing to have any or all of the designated directory information disclosed must file written notification to this effect with Georgetown College at the Registrar’s Office within two weeks after registration day of the semester. In the event a refusal is not filed, the College assumes that neither a parent of a student nor eligible student objects to the release of directory information designated.

- To a victim of an alleged perpetrator of a crime of violence or a nonforcible sex offense, subject to the requirements of §99.39. The disclosure may only include the final results of the disciplinary proceeding with respect to that alleged crime or offense, regardless of the finding. (§99.31(a)(13))

- To the general public, the final results of a disciplinary proceeding, subject to the requirements of §99.39, if the College determines the student is an alleged perpetrator of a crime of violence or non-forcible sex offense and the student has committed a 9 3/1/19 violation of the College’s rules or policies with respect to the allegation made against him or her. (§99.31(a)(14))
- To parents of a student regarding the student’s violation of any Federal, State, or local law, or of any rule or policy of the College, governing the use or possession of alcohol or a controlled substance if the College determines the student committed a disciplinary violation and the student is under the age of 21. (§99.31(a)(15))

2. Hover over “Home” tab
3. Click “My Information”

Tab: FERPA Opt Out-

- Students can choose to withhold directory information from third parties and the campus directory.

Tab: FERPA Permissions-

If a parent/guardian is not listed, click “Add Parent/Guardian” and provide all requested information. This relationship addition will be approved by the Office of the Registrar. Once approved, the parent/guardian will appear on the list, and the student will need to grant permission to the individual. This process may take 1-2 business days. For immediate approval, please contact the Office of the Registrar, and the appropriate department will be notified of updated FERPA permissions.

NOTE: If a parent/guardian claimed the student as dependent for IRS tax purposes, then the individual has access to all financial, educational, and student life records.

Drug-Free Schools Notification

This document serves as official notice of Georgetown College's Drug-Free Workplace, and Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989 Policy. Furthermore, after reviewing this document, every student and employee should understand that violation of College policy concerning alcohol or controlled substance abuse shall result in appropriate action which may include disciplinary action up to and including suspension or dismissal. In addition to College disciplinary sanctions, students or employees may face prosecution and imprisonment under Federal, State or Local Ordinances which make such acts felony and misdemeanor crimes.

Standards of Conduct

The Federal Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 and the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989 require that all members of the College Community, employees and students, receive a copy of the College's statement which certifies that Georgetown College is a drug-free workplace and in compliance with the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989. This policy notification insures the College's compliance with the Federal law. For purposes of the law and this policy, drug is defined as "controlled substance", which means any controlled substance in schedules I through V of section 2020 of the Controlled Substance Act, which, in turn, means virtually every illicit drug or controlled substance from the worst street drugs to mild prescription drugs, including alcohol for the purposes of the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments. Tobacco products are not covered. Additional information is available upon request through your supervisor or the Vice President for Student Life.

Medical Amnesty Policy

The safety and health of our students is our primary concern at Georgetown College. As such, in situations where individuals may be demonstrating signs of alcohol poisoning or drug overdose students are encouraged to seek medical assistance for themselves or others by contacting Campus Safety or 911. In these situations, Georgetown College will not pursue conduct sanctions for violations of the Student Code of Conduct for the student involved or the student that seeks assistance for possible alcohol poisoning or drug overdose.

In lieu of conduct sanctions, the student involved in the situation (and possibly the referring student) will be required to meet with a member of the Student Life staff or the College Counseling Center to discuss the incident. The College Counseling Center or Student Life staff may require further educational or substance abuse sessions after an initial meeting. Multiple requests for use of this policy are not permitted; however, students are always encouraged to seek medical assistance for possible alcohol poisoning or drug overdose.

Georgetown College's Medical Amnesty Policy does not prevent conduct action or sanctions for violations of the Student Code of Conduct unrelated to the alcohol and/or drug policies that occur during the incident. Likewise, the Medical Amnesty Policy does not prevent action by Georgetown Police or other law enforcement personnel if they deem action necessary.

Application to Student Organizations/Groups

The Medical Amnesty Policy shall apply in situations where an organization is hosting an event where medical assistance is sought for an intoxicated guest. Like the policy for individuals, in lieu of conduct sanctions under the Student Code of Conduct, the members of the organization and/or group will be required to meet with a member of the Student Life staff for alcohol education. Also, the Medical Amnesty Policy will not prevent action by Georgetown Police Department, other law enforcement personnel, or actions taken by student organizations with regulations governed outside the Georgetown College Office of Student Conduct.

Educational and Support Programs Available to Students and Employees

Individual Counseling

The Student Wellness Center offers free counseling to students who struggle with alcohol and/or drug use. Sessions are tailored to meet the individual clients' needs.

Educational Programming

The staff of the Student Wellness Center are available to do educational programs regarding drugs and alcohol to organizations and residence halls on campus. These types of programs include but are not limited to alcohol/drug awareness, risk factors, social factors, physical factors and psychological outcomes related to alcohol and/or drug use.

Spring Break Fair

The Student Wellness Center conducts a fair the week before spring break targeting a variety of topics including the risks of alcohol and drug use. This includes demonstrations using “beer goggles”. The police are often invited and have brought a DUI simulation machine.

Green Dot

Green Dot is a bystander intervention program that targets sexual assault. However, as a part of this process, there is often discussion of the role of alcohol and/or drug use as it relates to sexual assault. For more information please contact the Student Wellness Center

My Student Body

My Student Body is designed to reduce risky student behavior using strategies that research has shown are most effective—motivational, attitudinal, and skill-training interventions. More than a one-time-through prevention course, MyStudentBody is available 24/7, all semester long, for information on drugs, alcohol, sexual violence, and other health and wellness issues that can affect their academic success. MyStudentBody also gives parents tools they can use to reinforce your school’s prevention message. And, it provides you with data and strategies to support their overall prevention program. There are two courses offered under the My Student Body Program: Essentials and Student Conduct. For more information please contact Student Life.

Essentials Course

Essentials is a prevention education course intended for incoming students. It covers the three most significant behavioral risks new college students face: alcohol, illicit and prescription drugs, and sexual violence. Structured around a motivational self-assessment in each area, Essentials incorporates audio, video, and interactive tools and lessons to teach students key concepts and skills. Follow-up assessment gives administrators a window on student risks and consequences throughout the term.

Student Conduct Course

Specifically designed for students who violate school alcohol policies, Student Conduct encourages students to make informed choices and helps students identify their problematic behavior and avoid future sanctions. It incorporates the Alcohol Use Disorders Identification Test (AUDIT), a measure that evaluates how harmful a person’s drinking may be. The program uses interactive audio, video, and written lessons and tools to keep students engaged. Campus administrators can easily customize the score required to pass the course, control how many attempts students are allowed, and schedule follow-up assessments.

If you face termination or other disciplinary action as a result of this policy, it will be carried forward consistent with the appropriate established procedures of the College, or the Faculty Handbook for faculty members, or Student Handbook for students. Additionally, the College has available personal assistance including information, counseling or referral to a qualified off-campus substance-abuse treatment professional. Contact the College's Counseling Psychologist, for this assistance. Also, the local Comprehensive Care Center in Georgetown can be contacted for confidential assistance.

In addition to imposition of disciplinary sanctions by the College, students and employees may face prosecution and imprisonment under applicable local, state or Federal law, which make such acts felony and misdemeanor crimes.

State and Federal Laws (include but are not limited to the following)

State

The state of Kentucky prohibits the following acts and prescribes the corresponding penalties:

1. No one under the age of 21 shall:
 1. enter a premises where alcoholic beverages are sold for the purpose of receiving or purchasing alcohol;
 2. possess or purchase, or attempt to possess or purchase, alcoholic beverages;
 3. misrepresent his/her age or use false or altered identification for the purpose of purchasing alcoholic beverages.
 4. Violation of these provisions is punishable by revocation of one's driver's license, a fine of $100-500 and/or up to six months in prison.
2. Assisting a person under 21 years of age purchase or gain possession of alcoholic beverages is subject to the revocation of one's drivers license, a fine of up to $500 and/or a prison term of up to six months.
3. Driving under the influence of alcoholic beverages carries a penalty of three to twelve months in jail, a $500-1000 fine and up to twelve months of community labor.
4. Being intoxicated in public due to the use of alcohol or controlled substances, such that one becomes a danger to self or others carries a penalty of up to 90 days in jail.
5. Participating with five or more people in the illegal distribution of controlled substances or intoxicating liquor is punishable by 10-20 years in prison.
6. Trafficking, possessing or distributing controlled substances is prohibited. The penalties for such acts include mandatory participation in a program of treatment and rehabilitation and imprisonment from one year to twenty years and a $3,000 to $20,000 fine.
7. Trafficking in a controlled substance in any school classroom or on any premises within 1000 yards of any school building is punishable by one to five years in prison and/or up to a $5,000 fine.

Federal

Federal law prohibits certain acts listed in the appendix with their corresponding penalties.

Further, in accordance with Federal law and College policy, a College employee is required to notify their immediate supervisor within five (5) days of a conviction of any criminal drug statute violation which occurred in the workplace or while on College business. If the employee is on a Federal grant or contract, the College is required to notify the granting or contracting agency within ten (10) days of receiving notice of a conviction. The College is required to take appropriate action consistent with established procedures.

Health Risks

Narcotics such as opium, morphine, and heroin can cause euphoria, drowsiness, respiratory depression, constricted pupils, and nausea. The symptoms of an overdose of narcotics are slow and shallow breathing, clammy skin, convulsions, coma and possible death. Persons experiencing withdrawal from addiction to narcotics can experience watery eyes, runny nose, yawning, loss of appetite, irritability, tremors, panic, cramps, nausea, chills and sweating.

Depressants such as barbiturates and Quaaludes can cause slurred speech, disorientation and drunken behavior. An overdose of a depressant results in shallow respiration, clammy skin, dilated pupils, weak and rapid pulse, coma and possible death. Withdrawal symptoms include anxiety, insomnia, tremors, delirium, convulsions and possible death.

Stimulants such as cocaine and crack can cause increased alertness or euphoria, an increased pulse rate and blood pressure, insomnia, and loss of appetite. An overdose of stimulants results in agitation, an increase in body temperature, hallucinations, convulsions, and possible death. Withdrawal symptoms include apathy, long periods of sleep, irritability, depression, and disorientation.

Hallucinogens such as LSD or amphetamine variants cause illusions and hallucinations, and poor perception of time and distance. The effects of an overdose include psychosis and possible death.

Marijuana and hashish can cause euphoria, increased appetite, relaxed inhibitions, and disoriented behavior. The effects of an overdose include fatigue, paranoia, and possible psychosis. Withdrawal symptoms include insomnia, hyperactivity, and decreased appetite.

Alcohol consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses significantly impair the judgment and coordination required to drive a car safely, increasing the likelihood that the driver will be involved in an accident. Low to moderate doses of alcohol also increases the incidence of a variety of aggressive acts, including spouse and child abuse. Moderate to high doses of alcohol cause marked impairments in higher mental functions, severely altering a person's ability to learn and remember information. Very high doses cause respiratory depression and death. If combined with other depressants of the central nervous system, much lower doses of alcohol will produce the effects just described.

Repeated use of alcohol can lead to dependence. Sudden cessation of alcohol intake is likely to produce withdrawal symptoms, including severe anxiety, tremors, hallucinations, and convulsions. Alcohol withdrawal can be life threatening. Long-term consumptions of large quantities of alcohol, particularly when combined with poor nutrition, can also lead to permanent damage of vital organs such as the brain and the liver.

Mothers who drink alcohol during pregnancy may give birth to infants with fetal alcohol syndrome. These infants have irreversible physical abnormalities and mental retardation. In addition, research indicates that children of alcoholic parents are at greater risk than other youngsters of becoming alcoholics.

Non-Academic Complaint Procedures

Georgetown College faculty, staff, and students strive to solve problems as they arise. In this context, individuals are encouraged to discuss first any complaints or concerns with the person believed to be responsible for the problem. However, under some circumstances, the person alleging the grievance may prefer to discuss the matter first with a college official rather than the alleged offender and can do so at any point.

If a student feels that a problem has not been addressed or satisfactorily resolved, the following Formal Complaint process can be utilized. To file a Formal Complaint, the student must submit the complaint in writing via hard copy or email to the Dean of Students. This statement must be clearly titled "Formal Complaint" and detail the incident or complaint with the following components:

1. A brief narrative of the condition(s) giving rise to the grievance and includes the date, time, and location when the incident took place, as applicable;
2. A designation of the parties involved; and
3. A statement of the remedy requested.

Depending on the situation, the Dean of Students may appoint the alleged offender's direct supervisor to investigate the complaint. For example, a Residence Life staff member may be asked to investigate a complaint about a Resident Director.

Throughout the complaint procedure, an attempt is to be made to resolve the issue. If the issue cannot be satisfactorily resolved, then the Dean of Students may form an impartial committee to determine the remedy. Final appeal may be made to the President.

Academic Ombud

Academic Ombud

Students may bring concerns about student academic rights and violations of academic integrity to the Academic Ombud. The Ombud serves a purely communicative function, providing a confidential and impartial space, as legally permissible, to discuss these issues. Students may explore formal complaints, clarify issues, and consider options and resources to address their concerns. The Academic Ombud may share relevant information with appropriate parties, as the student wishes, or hold it in confidence.

The Ombud advises students on issues regarding student academic rights related to:

- Academic integrity (plagiarism, cheating, etc.)
- Grade disputes as a result of a violation of the student's academic rights
- Unfairness or concerns with retaliation
- Cross-cultural misunderstandings
- Other academic issues

Consultation with the Ombud is meant to supplement, but not replace, the process of academic resolution (contacting the course instructor, department chair, and submitting a formal appeal or complaint to the office of the Provost). The Academic Ombud serves as chair and a non-voting member of the Academic Policy Committee, where formal student academic appeals are considered. In this way, they can ensure fair application of policies, as related in the Academic Catalog.

The Academic Ombud does not deal with issues relating to student life, disability services, Title IX violations, or finances. See the Student Handbook for additional information regarding these issues.

To submit an inquiry or to schedule an appointment, please email ombud@georgetowncollege.edu.

Please note: Communication with the Academic Ombud is not "notice to the university" of problems or policy violations, except where the Ombud is required by law or university policy to forward that notice. The Ombud can help students to determine how to keep their own records or submit formal complaints and appeals, and also help students identify the appropriate office to contact if applicable. In cases where information reported to the Ombud indicates that there may be a violation of the university's Title IX Policy, the Ombud will be obligated to report that information to the Title IX coordinator.

Meaning

The mission of Georgetown College is to prepare students to engage in their life's pursuits with thoughtfulness and skill by providing an exceptional educational experience in a vibrant Christian community. Distinguished by its emphasis on outstanding teaching and mentoring, the College offers excellent academic programs in the liberal arts, sciences, and professions. In a truly academic community, honor must be expected. Honor is an ideal that is evident in the lives of ethical scholars. Primarily, the function of the Honor System is to educate and instill a common purpose within the campus' student community. The Honor System is an educational tool to assist the process of teaching morality and ethics. The Honor system helps create an environment that will assist in the development of the whole person by insisting upon honorable traits and behavior. Further, the process assists in the establishment of precedent, consistency, and fairness with regard to questions of academic integrity. An effective honor system requires students and faculty to understand and abide by the system's expectations.

Guidelines

The strength of the Honor System is in the creation of an atmosphere in which students can act with individual responsibility. This includes the personal decision to act honorably and to not tolerate others who choose to violate the conditions of the Honor System. Therefore, an important aspect of the College's Honor System is that all students are expected to report violations of the Honor System by their peers. Faculty and Staff must also understand the spirit of the system and do everything possible to abide by the guidelines.

Infractions

Infractions of the Honor System include cheating, stealing, and lying related to academic matters. These infractions are defined as follows:

- Cheating. Fabricating written assignments; giving aid to any student or receiving aid without the consent of the professor on tests, quizzes, assignments, or examinations; consulting unauthorized work with the intent of subverting the purpose of the exercise. (An assignment shall be defined as any work, required or voluntary, submitted to an instructor for review or grade.)

- Plagiarism. The act of presenting the information, ideas, or phrasing of another as if they were one's own. Such an act is plagiarism whether by ignorance of proper scholarly procedures, failure to observe them, or deliberate intent to deceive.
- Stealing. The act of appropriating that which belongs to another with intent to the College or another individual with intent to achieve an unfair advantage in academic matters, whether or not the advantage is a personal one, and/or assisting others in such acts. (Examples include theft of library materials, computer software/equipment, or instructor's examinations, etc.)
- Lying (in academic matters). The intentional statement of an untruth made with deliberate intent to mislead another. Forgery is considered an act of lying and thus an honor offense. Therefore, the unauthorized signing or false representation on a college document is considered an honor offense. Note: It will be considered in an individual's favor in determining penalty, if an individual tells an untruth concerning a matter but later, on his/her own initiative tells the truth concerning the same matter before he/she is confronted with the untruth. Lying during the process of resolving an alleged honor offense is considered a breach of the Honor System.
- Double Assignments. The use of one assignment (e.g. paper) to fulfill the requirements of more than one course will be considered a violation of the Honor System, unless the student has received proper permission from the appropriate instructor(s).

Honor Code Infraction Procedure

If a faculty member believes that a student may have violated the Georgetown College honor code:

1) The faculty member will raise a Potential Honor Code Infraction flag on Connect.

- The flag will e-mail the student directly and let him or her know that they must meet with the faculty member within three days of receiving the notification to discuss the potential infraction.
- If the student fails to meet with the faculty member during this time frame, the infraction will automatically become an Honor Code Violation.

2) Once the faculty member raises the Potential Honor Code Infraction flag, he or she will also reach out to the student directly. An automatic notification will be sent to the Registrar that a possible honor code violation has occurred.

- The Registrar will then place a hold on the student's schedule so that he or she cannot drop the course in question. No further details will be given to the Registrar.
- At this point in the process, the only people aware that a violation may have occurred will be the student, the faculty member, and the Registrar.

After the student and faculty member meet to discuss the potential violation

1) If the faculty member determines that no violation has taken place:

- The faculty member will clear the Potential Honor Code Infraction flag that he or she raised on Connect.
- An automatic notification will notify the Registrar that the flag has been cleared. The registrar will remove the hold on the student's account.

2) If the faculty member determines that a violation has taken place:

- The faculty member will leave the Potential Honor Code Infraction flag open on Connect.
- The faculty member will also raise the Honor Code Violation flag on Connect. This will notify the student, the Administrative Assistant/Academic Operations Coordinator, and the Director of Academic Success that a violation has been filed against the student.
- The wording of the Honor Code Violation flag will link to the online student handbook. This will allow the student to review his or her rights under the Honor Council process.

If the potential violation is the student's first Honor Code offense:

1) If the student accepts responsibility:

- The professor may impose a penalty appropriate to the violation (see SANCTIONS below)
- The Administrative Assistant/Academic Operations Coordinator clears the flag.

2) If the student admits responsibility for the action but disputes the penalty, the student may appeal the penalty to the Honor Council.

- The Director of Academic Success contacts the student to see if he or she has any questions regarding their rights under the Honor Council

- The Administrative Assistant/Academic Operations Coordinator notifies the chair of the Honor Council of the need for a hearing.
- The hearing is held and the penalty is assessed.

3) If the student does not accept responsibility:

- The Director of Academic Success contacts the student to see if he or she has any questions regarding their rights under the Honor Council
- The Administrative Assistant/Academic Operations Coordinator notifies the Chair of the Honor Council that an incident will be adjudicated at the next regularly scheduled session of the Honor Council (held at 11 a.m. on the first Tuesday of every month during the academic year--see Hearing Process below).
- The Provost's Office will forward a complete listing of the charges and the appropriate rights and procedure information to the accused by 5 p.m. on the Friday before the next scheduled Honor Council meeting
- The hearing is held and the student is found responsible or not responsible for the violation.

4) If the violation is the student's second Honor Code offense, the violation will proceed to the Honor Council regardless of whether or not the student accepts responsibility for the violation. The student will be notified that the Honor Council will hold a hearing at its next regularly scheduled meeting.

- If the student has accepted responsibility for this second violation, the Honor Council will review the sanction and the details of the violations for which the student has been found responsible in order to determine if the automatic penalty of F for the course should be enhanced.
- If the student has not accepted responsibility, the Honor Council will first hold a hearing to determine if the student should be held responsible; during that deliberation, only the Chair will know that the hearing is for a second offense.
- If a student is then found responsible for a second offense, the Chair will inform the Honor Council of the details of previous offenses during the penalty phase of its deliberation.

If the student is found responsible for the violation:

1) The student can appeal the finding to the Provost. The notice and specific reasons for the appeal must be made in writing to the Provost/Dean of the College within five days of the student receiving written notice of the Honor Council's decision. The appeal letter must state specifically the basis for the appeal, for example misinterpretation of a policy or new information that was not made available during the Honor Council hearing. The decision of the Provost/Dean of the College will be the final decision regarding honor violations.

- The Provost makes a decision to uphold the Honor Council or to reject their findings.
- The Administrative Assistant/Academic Operations Coordinator clears the flag, which notifies the student and the faculty member of the Provost's decision.

2) The student can choose to accept the Honor Council's decision.

- The Administrative Assistant/Academic Operations Coordinator clears the flag, which notifies the student and the faculty member of the Honor Council's decision.

If the student is not found responsible for the violation:

1) The Administrative Assistant/Academic Operations Coordinator clears the flag, which notifies the student and the faculty member of the Honor Council's decision.

Note: If the charged student is a graduate student, the Dean of Education will participate in the communication.

The Honor Council Hearing Process

The hearing panel should consist of seven Honor Council members (two Faculty and five students) and be chaired by the elected faculty Chair of the Honor Council (or his/her designee in the case of a conflict of interest). A minimum of five Honor Council members must be present to hold a hearing. The Chair of the Honor Council is a non-voting member of the Council and is responsible for ensuring that the hearing is conducted in a fair and impartial manner. The Chair will know whether the case is a second offense but will not communicate that information until the determination of responsibility has been reached.

- Appropriate witnesses (e.g. person making the accusation) must be present at the Hearing. The accused must be present during the entire proceeding. • Witnesses will be called at the appropriate time during the hearing by the Chair of the Honor Council.
- The accused or the accuser does NOT have a right to Counsel.

- The accused has a right to call no more than two character witnesses during the penalty phase of the hearing.
- In the case of a second or subsequent offense for which the student accepts responsibility, the hearing will focus entirely upon whether the penalty should exceed the automatic F that is mandated for second violations of the honor code. If the student accused of a second offense is disputing the accusation, the Honor Council will not be informed of the previous offense until after responsibility has been determined.
- The procedure will conclude with the accused being given the opportunity to make a “private” statement to the Honor Council (without the presence of the accuser or any witnesses).
- All hearing proceedings will be recorded.
- The Honor Council will generally render a decision at the end of the meeting, following deliberation. If additional time is required, the Council will have no more than 48 hours to make a decision with regard to responsibility or non-responsibility and the appropriate sanction to be imposed.
- The Honor Council should consult with the faculty member bringing the initial charge before imposing a sanction that is less than what the faculty member recommended.

The Chair of the Honor Council will communicate information to the Administrative Assistant/Academic Operations Coordinator about the finding of responsibility (with sanction) or the finding of non-responsibility. This communication will be sent by letter and by email to the accused, and a personal meeting with the Director for Academic Success will be arranged to help the student deal with the consequences of the Council's finding. The hearing documentation and resolution will be placed in the student's file in the Provost's Office. The individual responsible for the accusation will be informed of the Honor Council's decision.

Sanctions

A sanction used in the resolution of an honor offense should be based on precedent, prior record, attitude, and severity of the offense. The following are the most commonly recognized sanctions. Particular incidents may require the use of one or more of these sanctions.

- Written reprimand/Warning
- Financial Restitution
- F on specific assignment
- F in pertinent course

- Suspension for a period of time with a right to reapply for admission following the suspension period
- Expulsion (no right to reapply)

Faculty, Provost/Dean of the College, and Honor Council members have a responsibility to work together to make sanctions as fair and consistent as possible. Though due respect will be given to a faculty member's recommendation on the nature of the penalty, faculty members should also respect that it is desirable to have consistent and fair sanctions across campus.

Penalty for a second offence: A second honor offense will result in at least an automatic “F” in the course. The Honor Council may not assign a lesser sanction, but the Provost (on appeal) has the discretion to deviate from this firm expectation. The Honor Council may, if appropriate, apply a greater penalty such as suspension or expulsion.

Rights of the Accused

Students accused of a violation of the Georgetown College Honor System are assured of the following rights:

- The College may act as the accuser.
- The accused has the right to confront the accuser.
- If the accused decides to have the suspected honor violation resolved by a hearing, the following rights are implied:
 - The right to have specific charges outlined in a letter that will be delivered at least 48 hours in advance of scheduled hearing procedures
 - The right to call any material witnesses deemed necessary by the accused during the hearing procedures
 - The right to call no more than two character witnesses during the penalty phase of the hearing
 - The right to have the outcome of the hearing discussed in a face-to-face meeting with the Director for Academic Success
 - The right to an appeal with the Provost/Dean of the College

B. Hearings

Under the provision of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) that allows information to be shared with other College officials who are determined to have a legitimate educational interest, Student Conduct information may be shared with other college personnel and pertaining to student-athletes, may be shared with the appropriate coach(es).

1. General Hearing information

- A hearing will be arranged to adjudicate alleged offenses reported to the Office of Student Conduct. A Hearing Officer will be assigned to each reported case to discuss the alleged violation with the involved student(s). Where possible, the hearing process will follow an educational and developmental approach to help students be more informed about College policy and learn from the experience.

- Every effort will be made to consider the individual circumstances of each reported case as to determine responsibility and appropriate sanction(s) for the level of offense and/or would best serve the student and the College in the Student Conduct process.
- Hearings for students who have allegedly violated policy will be held through either Administrative Hearings or a hearing with the Student Conduct Hearing Board as determined by the Student Life administrator.
 - Student Conduct Hearing Board: will generally conduct hearings in the instances of:
 - Second or third offenses of a Code of Conduct policy,
 - more than four (4) distinct offenses of various policy by one individual in one incident,
 - offenses of an egregious or complex nature, or
 - as determined necessary by a Student Life administrator.
 - Administrative Hearings: Administrative hearings will be held in the cases of:
 - First offenses of a Code of Conduct policy (unless of an egregious or complex nature, or potentially when concurrent with multiple offenses at the discretion of the hearing officer),
 - when, in the judgment of the hearing officer, the student who allegedly violated policy would be better served through an administrative hearing or warrants further formal conversation.
- An individual within the College (faculty member, staff member, or student peer) may attend the hearing with the student in a supportive role if asked to do so by the student; however, while they may be present, the support individual may not speak on behalf of the student, or otherwise participate in hearings. Support individuals who attempt to participate, speak during the hearing, or are deemed disruptive to the hearing will be dismissed from the hearing.

- Students who are combative, disruptive, or otherwise deemed to be unproductively engaged in their hearing may be dismissed, and the reported case adjudicated in their absence.
- Georgetown College's Executive Cabinet reserves the right to intervene and/or act as the deciding body in the Student Conduct process, as it deems necessary. This would typically only be done in extreme or extraordinary circumstances. The Executive Cabinet may impose sanctions, including an interim suspension, suspension, or expulsion of a student without a formal hearing process. Decisions made by the College's Executive Cabinet are final and not subject to appeal. An interim suspension or expulsion may be imposed: a) to ensure the safety and well-being of members of the College community or preservation of College property; b) to ensure the students' own physical or emotional safety and well-being; or c) if the student poses an ongoing threat of disruption of, or interference with, the normal operations of the College. During an interim suspension, a student may be denied access to the residence halls and/or to the campus (including classes) and/or all other College activities and privileges for which the student might otherwise be eligible, as may be determined to be appropriate.

2. Administrative Hearings

- The administrative hearing process will, in general, take place as outlined below:
 - Upon receipt of a report of the alleged offense, and after determination that a hearing shall be held, the hearing officer will send the student a formal hearing letter, outlining the policy or policies that the student has allegedly violated. The hearing letter will also contain the date, time, and location of the hearing, along with other relevant information. This letter will be sent to the student in hard copy via the campus mailroom and/or electronically to the student's email.
 - Additionally, when the situation warrants, a student may be sent an email request to meet and discuss the alleged event, as a fact-finding meeting prior to a hearing. In these instances, the meeting may result in a resolution of the situation, or as a result of the discussion become a formal hearing where an administrative settlement may be offered.

- At the scheduled hearing, the hearing officer and student will discuss the alleged violation, and if applicable review the submitted report.
 - Students in a hearing may review the report if applicable, but may not take copies of the report or photograph the report.
- Upon review of the report or alleged offense, the student will have the opportunity to explain their involvement in the alleged violation, or explain the circumstances surrounding the event. During this, the hearing officer may ask questions of the student regarding their involvement, additional information about the incident, or other questions about the event.
- Once the student has offered their information and the hearing officer has asked their questions, the student will be asked to enter a plea of responsible or not responsible for the alleged offense(s).
 - A plea of responsible indicates that the student admits responsibility for violating the policy as published, and a plea of not responsible indicates that the student does not feel they are responsible for violating the policy as published.
- After the student has entered their plea, the hearing officer will make a final determination of responsibility based upon the report, published policy, student information, facts and circumstances of the event, prior conduct history, etc. and make a formal determination of responsibility on the part of the student.
 - The Office of Student Conduct operates with the standard of a preponderance of the evidence, i.e. is it more likely than not that the alleged offense is true.
 - If the student is found not responsible for the alleged violation, a finding of not responsible will be entered into the judiciary file, and the student given a formal letter of not responsible for the alleged offense. A copy of the not responsible letter will be entered into the student's judiciary file, and an electronic copy sent to the student.

- If the student is found to be responsible for the alleged violation, a finding of responsible will be entered into the judiciary file, and the student will be presented with an Administrative Settlement form that outlines the sanction(s) that will be assigned to the student for the violation of policy. The sanction(s) will be based on the policy violation, facts and circumstances of the specific incident, student's conduct and conduct history, any prior sanction(s), the overall judicial history of the student, and any other factors determined relevant by the hearing officer.
 1. The student, after a review of the administrative settlement and opportunity to ask any questions, will have the ability to sign that they accept or do not accept the sanction(s) provided for the policy violation.
 2. If the student accepts the sanction(s), then they will be required to complete the sanction(s) by the deadline provided, or by the criteria outlined in the administrative settlement.
 3. If a student does not accept the sanction(s) or feels they are not responsible for the violation, then they may submit an appeal of the decision, sanction(s), or both.
- If a student does not attend their assigned scheduled hearing, and does not communicate to the hearing officer to reschedule, then the reported offense will be adjudicated in the student's absence, and the student informed of the finding of the hearing in hard copy via the campus mailroom and/or electronically via the student's email.

- If a hearing cannot be held in a timely manner, such as at the end of a term, if the student withdrawals, cannot be present on campus, etc.; the alleged violation may be reviewed by the Student Life Administrator responsible for the Office of Student Conduct, who will make a determination of responsibility and assign sanctions in the instance of a finding of responsible. In these instances, the student may request a meeting with a hearing officer to discuss the finding and sanctions, but the case will not be reheard.
3. Student Conduct hearing board
- The Student Conduct hearing board will be minimally comprised of one (1) faculty member, one (1) Student Life staff member, and one (1) student representative that have applied and been selected to serve on the hearing board. This hearing board will be convened throughout the semester to hear cases as needed. A Student Life administrator will oversee the hearing board and can participate in discussions with the purpose to guide the process, but will not be a voting member of the board and cannot make a determination of responsibility.
 - The Student Conduct hearing board will generally follow a hearing procedure similar to that of an administrative hearing; with the defending student and the author of the reported offense (if applicable) appearing before the board to give details on the report and their involvement, to be questioned by the board, and to enter a plea of responsible or not responsible.
 - After the review of the incident, conversation with the defending student(s), questions by the board members, and entering of a plea the defending student will be asked to exit the meeting to allow for the hearing board to deliberate and reach a determination. After deliberation and the decision of a finding, the student will be brought back before the board for notice of finding, and to review any sanction(s) assigned. After this review there will be an explanation of the appeals process for a board decision, and the board will adjourn.
 - If a student does not attend their assigned scheduled board hearing, and does not communicate to reschedule prior to the scheduled time, then the reported offense will be adjudicated in the student's absence by the hearing board, and the student informed of the finding of the hearing in hard copy via the campus mailroom, and/or electronically via the student's email.

- If a Student Conduct hearing board meeting cannot be held in a timely manner, such as at the end of a term or in certain circumstances; the decision will be rendered by the Student Conduct Administrator.

4. Appeals Process

- All decisions of a Student Conduct administrative hearing or decision of the Student Conduct hearing board may be appealed in writing to the Dean of Students.

Requests for appeal must be initiated in writing within 48 hours of the decision and must state the reason for the appeal. The appeal must address and will be only be considered under one or more of the following reasons.

 1. Procedural error;
 2. New evidence has come forward that was not available during the hearing;
 3. The decision reached was not supported by the information provided in the hearing; or
 4. The sanction(s) imposed is unduly severe compared to the nature of the violation.
15. Upon receipt of a written appeal, the Dean of Students may assign the appeal meeting to one of the Assistant Deans of Students or another Student Life Administrator.
 - The Hearing Officer of involved with the original decision may not be assigned or hear any appeals of that case.
 - The student may or may not be granted an in-person meeting during the appeal process. The Dean of Students or the designated representative may meet with the student to review the information of the case, and discuss the facts and circumstances of the offense. After this discussion, the Dean of Students or the designated representative will make a formal determination of the following:
 - The finding of the hearing upheld, and the sanction(s) assigned upheld,
 - The finding of the hearing upheld, but the sanction(s) assigned

- adjusted as determined by the Dean of Students or the designated representative,
- The finding of the hearing overturned.
- The resulting finding of the Dean of Students or the designated representative will stand as final in the matter.

C. Sanctions

Any of the following sanctions, or combinations of sanctions, may be imposed on a student responsible for a Code of Conduct violation or a violation of Section II of the Sexual Harassment and Sexual Misconduct Policy. A temporary suspension by an official of the College for a designated period of time may be issued in instances where students are judged to be disruptive in conduct to the educational mission and/or pose a substantial threat to the health or safety of themselves or others. An interim suspension is made pending a hearing on the alleged offense. Failure to abide by the imposed sanction may result in additional violations and/or sanctions.

1. Reprimand: A formal oral statement to a student that they are violating or have violated institutional policies. No reprimand shall be entered as a permanent part of the student's record unless issued by the appropriate Student Conduct personnel, at which time it will be entered as a part of their judicial file and permanent record.
2. Warning: Notice given in writing that continuation or repetition of inappropriate conduct within a period of time stated in the warning may be cause for more severe disciplinary action or additional sanctioning.
3. Education Course: A course specifically designed to educate students who violate institutional policies. The education course may be assigned in the form of an online program designed to inform students on the consequences of behaviors that violate policy; or may be assigned in the form of mandated meeting(s) with a predetermined staff or faculty member.
4. Counseling: A required intake counseling session with staff of the Counseling and Health Center. The student may be required to complete additional meetings as recommended by the Counseling and Health staff.

Distance from campus for students without motor transportation will be considered.

14. No Contact Order: A no contact order may be issued between two parties on campus when deemed necessary by a Student Life administrator, or by request from one involved party. A no contact order when issued serves as an official directive that the named party may not have contact with or be in the same relative vicinity of another party. NOTE: Students that are suspended or expelled are trespassed from all College property and

If living arrangements change from what is indicated on the submitted form, it is the student's responsibility to notify the Student Life Office immediately. In such cases, forfeiture of private rooms is determined according to class standing and cumulative grade point average (GPA). Time of application may also be considered.

2. If a student is approved for a private room after the beginning of the term, the cost of the private room will be prorated for the time remaining in the current term. Students not wishing to incur any private charges will agree to take a roommate into their room should the College's housing needs necessitate such an assignment.

2. Students who are assigned to a double room space without an assigned roommate are required to keep 1/2 of the room empty so that a roommate could move in at any point.
 1. This means one closet, desk, chair, bed, and dresser should always be unused and left open, so that in the event another resident is assigned to the space these items are move-in ready. Failure to do so will result in the Residence Life staff moving belongings so that these items are open and available for use by the newly assigned student to the space.
3. During the summer prior to the beginning of the Fall term, there will be a private room request period, where students will have the ability to request being placed in a private room. This process will be communicated to students via email. Private room requests will be considered during this process according to class standing (senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman), cumulative grade point average (GPA), and the housing needs of the College. Students who submit a request during this period will be notified if their request is approved or denied. Private room requests outside of this request period will not be considered.

18. Quiet Hours

1. City: The College has adopted the Noise Ordinance from the City of Georgetown, which prohibits Georgetown residents from making noise outdoors between the hours of 11 p.m. and 7 a.m. (this includes "circling up" by any student organization).
 1. Individuals in violation of this policy will be subject to the Student Conduct process or equivalent process for that student group. Organizations in violation of this policy may be fined along with receiving other sanctions.
2. College: Students who reside on campus should show consideration for other residents at all times, and courtesy hours in the residence halls are 24 hours. The hours between 10:00 p.m. and 10:00 a.m. are observed as quiet hours in the residence halls, although individual residence halls may observe slightly different hours. If the quiet hours established for a residence hall differ from this policy, prior written approval is required from the Director of Residence Life, and the modified hours are required to be posted in the hall. The purpose of quiet hours is to give consideration to those who desire to sleep or study.

1. Students who violate their halls quiet hours may be documented. Beginning on Reading Day and through Finals Week, quiet hours are enforced 24 hours a day and students who violate the 24-hour quiet hours will be subject to the Student Conduct process and/or may be asked to vacate their residence hall.

19. Residence Hall Maintenance

1. Routine maintenance requests (e.g., light bulbs, leaky faucets, etc.) should be made through the SchoolDude online maintenance request system which can be found on the portal by clicking the link labeled 'Maintenance Request' in the left hand column under Quick Links.
2. Genuine emergencies (e.g., broken water pipes, loss of heat/AC, broken windows, etc.) may be reported directly to the Student Life Office (8004), 8:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m. or the Campus Safety Office (8111) nights and weekends.

20. Residence Hall Meetings

1. When a meeting is called in a residence hall, each resident of that hall is required to attend. Students prevented from attending are to inform the Residence Hall Coordinator of the hall in advance. Disciplinary sanctions may be imposed if a student fails to attend a meeting and has not been excused by the Residence Hall Coordinator. Hall meetings cannot be called without the permission of the Residence Hall Coordinator or Area Coordinator.
2. Residents who have a floor or hall concern that they feel should be addressed in a floor meeting should schedule a time to meet and discuss the issue with their Residence Hall Coordinator, who will then determine the appropriateness of a hall meeting and if necessary notify the hall of the date/time the meeting is being held.

21. Residence Hall Policy and Code Expectations

1. Students are expected to follow all policies and codes in the residence halls and on all College property; and are required to comply with all directives and requests of College staff and officials.

2. College staff and officials include, but are not necessarily limited to, Area Coordinators, Residence Hall Coordinators and Resident Assistants, and Campus Safety Officers.

22. Residence Hall Visitation

1. Visitation in the private living areas of the residence halls is not permitted outside of the visitation periods for the residence halls.
 1. In traditional halls (South Campus, Anderson Hall, Knight Hall, Dudley Apartments), the visitation period is 12:00pm noon to 12:00am midnight Sunday – Thursday, and 12:00pm to 2:00am Friday and Saturday.
 2. In upscale housing (East Campus, Hambrick Village, Rucker Village), there is a 23-hour visitation policy in place, with no visitors permitted during the 4:00am to 5:00am hour.
 3. Guests are required to be escorted by their hosts at all times while in any College residence hall.
 1. Unescorted guests and strangers in the residence halls can pose a security risk to residents, and should be reported to Campus Safety.
 2. To help combat the presence of unescorted guests or strangers in the halls, students should never prop open external doors.
 4. Opposite gender guests should use the appropriate restrooms in the lobby in the traditional halls and be escorted by their host to and from the restroom. Opposite gender guests are not permitted to use the bathrooms on the residential floors.
 5. Visitors of the same sex are permitted to stay overnight for up to two consecutive nights and no more than 10 nights per semester with prior approval by the Director of Residence Life, or an Area Coordinator for Residence Life. Residence Hall Coordinators cannot approve overnight guests.
 6. Visitors of the opposite gender are not allowed to stay over-night and must follow all rules regarding visitation hours.
 7. Students are not allowed to reside in another individual's assigned residence.

2. Visitors are expected to abide by all regulations and policies of the College; violations may result in termination of the guests' visit and disciplinary action against the host(s). Students with guests who exceed the number of days permitted for visitation may be documented and subject to the Student Conduct process.

3. Traditional Hall Visitation: Knight Hall, Anderson Hall, Fraternity/Sorority Buildings, Flowers Hall, Allen Hall, Collier Hall, Pierce Hall, Dudley Apartments

1. The visitation hours are as follows for traditional halls:
 1. Sunday – Thursday 12:00pm Noon – 12:00am Midnight
 2. Friday – Saturday 12:00pm Noon – 2:00 AM

4. Upscale Housing Visitation: East Campus, Rucker Village, Hambrick Village

1. Apartment Style Housing residents may have 23-hour visitation. This visitation schedule allows residents to have visitors of any gender, 7 days a week except for the 4am-5am hour. The purpose of this policy is to allow students to have the freedom to visit as they wish; however, this policy will not facilitate or enable cohabitation under any circumstance. If concerns over cohabitation occur, the guest may be trespassed from the residential space, and the host subject to the loss of upscale housing privileges as well as the Student Conduct process. Students are not allowed to reside in another individual's assigned residence.
2. The visitation hours are as follows for upscale housing:
 1. Mon-Sun: 4am-5am: No visitation in any area of the townhouse/ apartment
5. Violation of visitation policies may result in disciplinary action through Residence Life or the Student Conduct process.

23. Room and Residence Hall Changes

1. Room assignment changes will not be made before the end of the fifth week from the start of classes of each semester, and will only be approved to be made during the official Residence Life Room Change Request period as sent to students via email. Exceptions may be made in cases of temporary assignments, approved changes as a part of the roommate mediation process, changes necessary to avoid private room charges, or other reasons deemed appropriate by the Director of Residence Life, or an Area Coordinator for Residence Life.

2. Students may not change rooms except during the designated room change period. The dates in which students can change rooms will be determined and made known each semester via email.
3. If a change is granted, the room being vacated must first be inspected and the room key collected before any change may be finalized.
- 4.

24. Room Assignments

1. Every effort is made to accommodate reasonable individual preferences in making on-campus housing assignments (private rooms, specific residence halls, etc.). When competition exists for specific preferences, housing decisions are made based upon class standing (senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman), cumulative grade point average (GPA), and other relevant housing considerations (i.e. the need for disability access).
 1. East Campus Apartments are open to students with 52 or more completed credit hours at the time of sign-up or request, and who have a minimum 2.50 cumulative or above grade point average. Continuing, returning students to the College will be given preference on placement, as space permits. Incoming first-year students may not live in East Campus apartments. Students with more than two Student Code of Conduct violations occurring within a year prior to residing on East may not be eligible for East Campus living. Students must meet all of these requirements to be eligible. Students whose Student Code of Conduct history reaches this threshold while living on East Campus may no longer be eligible.
 2. Hambrick Village or Rucker Village is open to non-freshman/first year students (i.e. freshman/first-year students are not permitted to live in the townhouse residence halls). Continuing, returning students to the College will be given preference on placement, as space permits. Students with more than one Student Code of Conduct violation occurring within the past twelve months or a history of more than three violations may not be eligible to live in Hambrick Village or Rucker Village. Any subsequent Student Code of Conduct violations that occur while residing at Hambrick Village or Rucker Village may result in immediate removal from the Hambrick Village or Rucker Village townhouses.

3. If a student's housing assignment is not filled to capacity (and that student has not been approved for a private room), Residence Life may assign another student to the space to fill the room to capacity as the need arises.
 1. For example, if a group of only 4 students find themselves assigned to or sign up for a 6-person townhouse, Residence Life may assign 2 more students to that townhouse even without the consent of the initial 4.
 2. While a reasonable effort may be made to notify students of changes and updates to their residential space regarding updated assignments and roommates, certain circumstances may not allow this to be the case; Residence Life is under no obligation or requirement to make notifications of updates or assignment changes about open spaces in rooms/apartments/townhouses/etc.
 3. If a student is eligible for a housing assignment, they may live in that space, if space availability permits.
 4. Students that reside in a housing assignment first do not have the ability to deny occupancy to other eligible students to open space in that assignment.

25. Room Consolidation

1. Residence Life may conduct a room consolidation process throughout the semester. Students who are living in a double room, but do not have a roommate may be asked to consolidate with another student from the same residence hall in which they reside.
2. During the summer, once the housing sign-up process ends, remaining students without a roommate who are not paying for a private as granted through the private room request process may be consolidated.

26. Room Inspection or Search

1. The College reserves the right to enter any room, at any time, including for maintenance, health, well-being concerns, reasonable suspicion, safety inspection, or other official business as conducted by an official representative of the College.
 1. Official representatives can include, but are not necessarily limited to: College staff and officials, Area Coordinators, Residence Hall Coordinators, Resident Assistants, and Campus Safety Officers.
2. The College also reserves the right to enter and conduct a search of any room if a violation of College regulations, code, or policy is suspected. When appropriate, during room inspections or searches, the College reserves the right to confiscate items found to be in violation of established policies and regulations (e.g., alcohol or other drugs).
3. Students who accept College housing agree to be bound by the inspection and search procedures of the College as they now exist, or may be amended in the future.
 - 1.

27. Roommate Mediation and Conflict

1. Part of the residential education experience is the expectation that roommates will work through issues that arise, and learn to live together in a healthy, respectful, and constructive manner. Setting boundaries and expectations for living together, and discussing some of the expectations as you begin to live together will make for a more fulfilling and smooth living experience. While one may think that it could be awkward or uncomfortable to address these kinds of things, or that you'll be able to deal with problems as they arise, this may not always be the case – it is good to set boundaries and expectations from the beginning.
2. Student who are experiencing issues with their roommate or housemates should request to meet with their Resident Assistant or Residence Hall Coordinator in order to discuss the issues and/or set a time to hold a roommate mediation.
3. In a roommate mediation, both roommates will sit down in a neutral meeting space with their residence hall staff, to both candidly and respectfully discuss the issues that have occurred, and collaborate to agree to mutually beneficial solutions to the issues at hand. At the end of the roommate mediation, both roommates will create and sign a roommate contract, which they agree to abide by while living together. Those who break the agreed upon contract or do not uphold its terms may be subject to fines, further action, or the Student Conduct process.

4. Room changes are not automatically granted or considered when room issues or disagreements occur. In the event of an unsuccessful mediation, the Director of Residence Life will require that both roommates move to a new housing assignment.

28. Service or Support Animal on Campus

1. Animals who are officially approved by the Office of Disability Services may reside in the residence hall with their owner, and the owner must follow all guidelines as set forth by the Office of Disability Services as part of their approval and signed agreement. Support animals must be officially approved, and notification must be submitted to the Office of Residence Life prior to the approved animal being permitted in the hall.
2. Animals that are not officially approved or fully officially approved through the Office of Disability Services are not permitted in the halls in accordance with the Student Code of Conduct, and will be required to be removed from the hall. Students who violate this policy will be subject to the Student Conduct process.

29. Students with infectious diseases in the Residence Halls

1. For certain infectious diseases, or in certain cases concerning mental/physical health, students could be directed to leave campus until they are cleared by a medical professional to be able to return to campus without risk of danger, harm, or infection to other students. Upon return, students may be required to provide documentation of clearance and if needed, inform appropriate staff members of plans for ongoing care as stated in treatment notes. In exceptional cases, the college may be able to provide quarantine space on campus but this is not guaranteed and would be considered on a case by case basis.

30. Tobacco & Tobacco Products/Smoking

1. Georgetown College prohibits smoking in all indoor areas including residence hall rooms. This includes smoking, vaping, and/or the use any type of e-cigarette or liquid/vapor/solid substance-based device that simulates smoking or create smoke or vapor in any indoor area, including but not limited to residence halls, administrative buildings, or other buildings on College property,
 2. In accordance with Georgetown City ordinance, smoking is prohibited within 30 feet of any public building entrance, window, or ventilation system.
31. Withdrawal from Campus Housing
1. Students who withdraw, or students who are dismissed from the College terminate their Housing Contract and must vacate the residence hall within 24 to 48 hours of their withdrawal/dismissal.
 2. Upon checking out, each resident must turn in his/her room key to a member of the Residence Life Staff. The room being vacated must be inspected for damages and inventoried by a staff member before the resident can be considered officially checked out.
 3. The Business Office will make an appropriate refund of the student's lock and damage deposit only after these conditions have been met.
 4. Failure to check out properly will result in an improper checkout charge being added to the student's account.

Student Organizations

Club, service, and social organizations exist throughout the College community and are generally open to all students.

A complete list of opportunities for involvement in these organizations can be found on the website. Someone wishing to start an organization should refer to the section on Registration and Authorization. All clubs and organizations are overseen by the Student Government Association (SGA).

Off-campus social functions by service, club, or social organizations are beyond the scope of control by the College. Neither the presence of an advisor or other employee of the College; the listing of the functions on the College calendar; nor any other College involvement with the club or organization or event shall be construed to cause an off-campus event to be a College event or one which the College, its agents, servants, or employees supervise or control.

No service, club, or social organization is permitted to present itself as an agent of the College. The College does not permit the use of its name in any way by service, club, or social organization in the purchase, rental, lease, borrowing, or any other supplies or services secured for the purpose of holding a social activity.

Georgetown College is not responsible for any indebtedness, account, or other financial arrangement made by any student, student organization, faculty member, or other employee, unless authorized by official purchase order signed by the President, Treasurer, or Controller, or in writing by the Trustees through the President. The Board of Trustees establishes these policies to maintain fair, consistent, and sound business relationships.

Guidelines for Campus Organizations

There are many student organizations at Georgetown College serving a variety of purposes and interests. Every student organization affiliated with or existing at Georgetown College must have on file in the Student Government Office a current copy of its Registered Student Organization Form, and must update this document every fall semester.

Registration and Authorization

All clubs and organizations involving Georgetown College students need College authorization and/or a College approved sponsor or advisor and must be registered through the SGA. Such clubs and organizations must be recommended by an appropriate faculty/staff member or by a member of the Student Life staff. A club or organization seeking authorization must file an appropriate document identifying the purpose, policies and procedures, supervision, membership, activities, and authorization procedures as required by the College. The Dean of Students and SGA has the authority to accept or deny the registration of a new club.

A club/organization must maintain a minimum number of seven members to be a recognized club. A "Club & Organization Registration" form is available in the SGA Office. In order to be in good standing, a club/organization must fill out the "Club & Organization Annual Registration" form in the fall of every year. Registration may be denied or withdrawn at any time by the Dean of Students.

Organizational Financial Accounting

All organizations should meet financial obligations in a responsible manner. One irresponsible group can negatively affect the attitudes of merchants toward all campus groups. The residents can use these funds, but normal Business Office procedures must be followed. Damage to machines is paid for before profits are divided. The Offices of Student Life and Development must approve group solicitation efforts.

Technology Ethics

Preamble

Technology resources at Georgetown College are provided to all faculty, students and staff to support the educational process and the administrative efforts for fulfillment of our mission statement. To remain consistent with the goals of this institution, therefore, the responsible use of these facilities is expected from all users.

The Georgetown College Technology Ethics Policy contains the governing guidelines for faculty, student and staff use of technology resources and is based on the EDUCOM Statement of Principle on Software and Intellectual Rights (stated below). This policy indicates the general principles regarding the appropriate use of equipment, software and networks, including the use of voice mail, electronic mail, distributed video services and computers. In addition, users of these resources must recognize and abide by federal, state and local laws and ordinances that relate to copyrights, security, privacy and other statutes involving electronic media.

Policy

The EDUCOM Statement of Principle on Software and Intellectual Rights states:

Respect for intellectual labor and creativity is vital to academic discourse and enterprise. This principle applies to work of all authors and publishers in all media. It encompasses respect for the right to acknowledgment, right to privacy, and right to determine the form, manner and terms of publication and distribution.

Because electronic information is volatile and easily reproduced, respect for work and personal expression of others is especially critical in computer environments. Violations of authorized integrity, including plagiarism, invasion of privacy, unauthorized access, and trade secret and copyright violations, may be grounds for sanctions against members of the academic community.

People who use the Georgetown College technology resources do so as guests of the college and are expected to act responsibly.

Because Georgetown College is a guest on the Internet, World Wide Web, email and related networks, those that access these networks serve as representatives of the college by the way in which they conduct their network activities. All users of Georgetown College resources must act with the highest ethical standards, respecting integrity of other users' accounts, any and all copyrights, the rights of other users and the physical facilities and controls.

Enforcement

The use of Georgetown College technology resources is a privilege to faculty, students and staff. The privilege may be withdrawn (in addition to other appropriate actions) by the college based on the specific guidelines outlined both in this document and Faculty, Staff and Student handbooks.

Disability and Accommodations

Attendance Accommodation Policy

Georgetown College Attendance Accommodation Policy

Oftentimes, class attendance is critical for a student to gain the essential competencies that are taught in a specific course. Georgetown College students are expected to follow attendance policies that are outlined by their professor at the beginning of the semester. If, for reasons related to a qualifying disability, a student believes that they will be unable to meet the requirements of the attendance policy in a specific class, they should notify the Disability Services office prior to the start of the semester or as soon as possible once the need for an exception arises.

Process & Documentation Guidelines

In these rare, necessary circumstances, attendance accommodations will be determined via an interactive, individualized process in conjunction with supporting medical documentation. This documentation should be completed by a licensed professional qualified to diagnose and treat the disability. The licensure of this professional must be current in the state of Kentucky or the student's state of residence. Documentation should present the qualifying diagnosis and should indicate the nexus between the impact of the diagnosis and the requested attendance accommodation. Following the review of this documentation, the Disability Services Coordinator will schedule an intake meeting with the student to discuss the specific needs that the student is experiencing.

When considering an attendance accommodation, the Disability Services Coordinator will review the following topics:

- The stated barrier to physical attendance and whether or not that barrier is related to a qualifying disability

- Whether or not the barrier can be removed (ie./ accessible classroom spaces, etc.)
- Any possible alternatives that would meet access needs
- Whether or not physical attendance is required in order to gain essential competencies of the class (ie./ information gleaned during discussion, labs using lab equipment, in-class group presentations or assignments, etc.)

As each class contains its own unique essential competencies, possible attendance accommodations may vary depending on the needs of the individual course. Due to this, a student may be approved for an attendance accommodation in one course, but not in another course. An attendance accommodation should not compromise the student's ability to gain all essential competencies in the course. These accommodations may be arranged in consultation between the Disability Services office and the student's faculty members to develop specific plans for each course that the student is enrolled in.

Attendance accommodations are not retroactive and must be confirmed prior to the absences taking place. Any absence unrelated to the specified disability is not covered under an attendance accommodation. Faculty may consider any unrelated absence as an unexcused absence per their course guidelines.

Class Modality (In-Person, Online, Hybrid, etc.)

In nearly all cases, the modality of a class (in-person, online, hybrid, etc.) cannot be permanently changed after the semester has begun. If a student has a need for a temporary accommodation due to a recent, required medical procedure or acute medical event, they should reach out to the Disability Services office to determine whether a temporary accommodation is possible.

Academic Accommodations Policy

Georgetown College Academic Accommodation Policy

Georgetown College aims to provide a classroom experience that is welcoming and accessible to all students. For students who may need accommodations, related to a qualifying disability, to fully engage within the academic experience at GC, our Disability Services Office will work to develop an individualized accommodations plan.

Accommodations are:

- Individual. Accommodations are determined on a case-by-case basis.
- Not retroactive. It is within the best interest of the student to seek accommodations early in the semester.
- Fluid. If an accommodation is not meeting the needs of the student, the student can notify the Disability Services Coordinator and changes may be made.
- Reasonable. A nexus must exist between the accommodation and the student's disability. Accommodations should not fundamentally alter a program, cause undue hardship, or threaten the integrity of a course.

Process & Documentation Guidelines

Academic accommodations will be determined via an interactive, individualized process in conjunction with supporting medical documentation. This documentation should be completed by a licensed professional qualified to diagnose and treat the disability. The licensure of this professional must be current in the state of Kentucky or the student's state of residence. Documentation should present the qualifying diagnosis and should indicate the nexus between the impact of the diagnosis and the requested attendance accommodation. Following the review of this documentation, the Disability Services Coordinator will schedule an intake meeting with the student to discuss the specific needs that the student is experiencing.

As each class contains its own unique essential competencies, academic accommodations may vary depending on the needs of the individual course. Due to this, a student may be approved for an academic accommodation in one course, but not in another. An academic accommodation should not compromise the student's ability to gain all essential competencies in the course. In necessary circumstances, academic accommodations will be arranged in consultation between the Disability Services Office and the student's faculty members to develop specific plans for each course in which the student is enrolled in.

Academic accommodations are not retroactive and must be on file early in the semester to give faculty members the opportunity to provide the accommodation throughout the semester. To provide the Disability Services Office with sufficient time to build an accommodations plan, students should submit the appropriate medical documentation ahead of the start of the semester.

Emotional Support Animal Policy

Georgetown College Emotional Support Animal (ESA) Policy

Georgetown College is committed to ensuring equal access to all persons, as required by law. While Georgetown College's Housing Policy states that pets (with the exception of fish) are not permitted in Georgetown College student housing, the College will allow exceptions to the no-pet policy and permit Emotional Support Animals (as defined by the Fair Housing Act) to qualified students with disabilities.

An Emotional Support Animal (ESA) is an animal that is prescribed by a licensed healthcare or mental healthcare provider to an individual with a mental health disability as part of the individual's treatment plan and is deemed by the provider as therapeutically necessary to manage the individual's mental health. An ESA is defined as any animal that provides well-being, comfort, aid, or emotional support to an individual with a mental or psychiatric disability that alleviates one or more identified symptoms of an individual's disability. Unlike Service Animals, ESAs are restricted to the residence of the handler and may not accompany the handler to other areas of the College.

ESA Request Process & Documentation Guidelines

A student wishing to request an ESA should contact the Disability Services Office to begin the ESA Request process in conjunction with supporting medical documentation. This documentation should be completed by a licensed mental healthcare professional (or other licensed medical provider) qualified to diagnose and treat the related disability. The licensure of this professional must be current in the state of Kentucky or the student's state of residence. Documentation should present the qualifying diagnosis and should indicate the nexus between the impact of the diagnosis and the support that the ESA would provide.

Following the receipt of this documentation, the request will be redacted by the Disability Services Coordinator and then reviewed by the ESA Committee, which meets once per month. The ESA Committee is comprised of representatives from the Disability Services, Counseling, and Residence Life offices. In order to provide the Disability Services office and ESA Committee with sufficient time to develop and communicate the accommodations plan, ESA requests should be submitted at least 60 days prior to the start of the semester. Mid-semester requests may be reviewed during the months of August-October during the Fall semester and January-March during the Spring semester; the ESA Committee will continue to meet once per month during these timeframes. Under no circumstances can same-day requests be approved.

Georgetown College, in consultation with the student (and other parties as deemed appropriate), will consider the criteria below in determining what constitutes a reasonable accommodation and appropriate housing assignments for individuals with ESAs:

- i. size of animal
- ii. type of animal
- iii. whether the animal's presence would force another individual from individual housing (e.g. serious allergies)
- iv. past behavioral history of the animal
- v. appropriately documented need for the support this animal may provide

Policy Review & Vaccination Submission

Once a request has been approved by the ESA Committee, the Disability Services Coordinator will communicate with the student to schedule a meeting to review the ESA Policy. An updated copy of the animal's required vaccinations must also be submitted to the Disability Services Office. This policy must be signed by the student and all required vaccinations must be submitted before the ESA may be brought to campus. Even when the request has been approved by the ESA Committee, an ESA is not fully approved until these pieces of documentation are on file.

Unapproved Animals

No ESA is allowed on campus until after the request has been officially approved by the ESA Committee and written confirmation made by the Disability Services Coordinator. All approved ESAs will be communicated with professional Residence Life staff following the signed release of information from the handler.

Any unapproved animal is in violation of Georgetown College Student Housing Policy and will be subject to Residence Life response. If a student who is intending to go through the ESA approval process is found to be in violation of this policy, the request consideration will be delayed until after the animal is removed from campus and the ESA Committee meets again.

ESA Handler Responsibilities

Handlers granted the accommodation of an ESA in their residence hall shall be subject to the following rules, in addition to any other College rules and regulations.

The handler must:

- A. Keep the animal in their individually assigned residence hall room at all times, except when the handler is taking the animal out for natural relief. When the handler is away from their housing, the animal must be crated/caged behind a locked door of the handler's individual room.
- B. Ensure that the animal does not unduly interfere with the routine activities of the residence or cause difficulties for individuals who reside in their residence hall, room, or apartment/townhouse.
- C. Keep the ESA in an animal carrier or controlled by a leash or harness at all times when outside of the handler's privately assigned living space.
- D. Keep the animal under control. The ESA must be properly restrained and otherwise under the control of the handler at all times. The ESA is not permitted to run loose across campus.
- E. Ensure that proper grooming of the animal is maintained (per Georgetown Code Sec. 3-28). The animal and its cage/crate or bedding may not be cleaned using college facilities, including the use of community or unit bathrooms/showers, and/or laundry facilities provided in the residence halls.
- F. Abide by local animal laws and ordinances. The handler must abide by current city, county, and state ordinances, laws, and/or regulations pertaining to licensing, vaccination, care, and other requirements for animals. It is the handler's responsibility to know and understand these ordinances, laws, and regulations.
- G. All dogs and cats must be vaccinated for rabies and revaccinated for rabies at the expiration of the immunization period as certified by a veterinarian. Updated vaccination information should be submitted to the Disability Services office each year.

H. Ensure the animal is well-cared for. The handler is required to ensure the well-being of the animal's health, including maintaining flea/tick/heartworm medications or other appropriate routine medications for different species. College personnel shall not be required to provide care or food for any ESA, including, but not limited to, removing the animal during emergency evacuation. ESAs may not be left overnight in campus housing to be cared for by any other student or individual other than the handler. If the handler is to be absent from campus housing overnight or longer, the ESA must accompany the animal.

I. Be responsible for personal or property damage. The handler is required to clean up after and properly dispose of the animal's waste in a safe and sanitary manner. The handler may be charged for any damage caused by their ESA beyond reasonable wear and tear to the same extent that other students are charged for damages beyond wear and tear. The handler's living accommodations may also be inspected for fleas, ticks, or other pests if necessary during the College's standard inspections. If fleas, ticks, or other pests are detected through inspection, the handler will be billed for the expense of any pest treatment beyond standard pest management in the residence halls.

J. Notify Disability Services if the ESA is no longer needed. The ESA is allowed in campus housing only as long as it is necessary because of the handler's disability. To replace one animal with a different animal, the student must file a new request with Disability Services and complete the approval process for the new ESA.

K. Approval for an ESA is valid only for the academic year in which it is granted. Repeated requests for an ESA must occur every academic year.

Removal of an ESA

Georgetown College may require the handler to remove the ESA from campus housing if:

1. The ESA poses a direct threat to the health or safety of others or causes substantial property damage to the property of others, including the College's property.
2. The presence of the ESA results in a fundamental alteration of a College program.
3. The handler does not comply with the Handler's Responsibilities set forth above.

4. The presence of the ESA creates an unmanageable disturbance or interference with the College community or residence hall operations.

These determinations will be made on a case-by-case basis by the ESA Committee upon consideration of the animal's behavior, as well as the student's behavior. The first incident will result in a written warning that will be signed by both the student and the Disability Services Coordinator. The second incident may result in the handler being given 48 hours to remove the animal from campus permanently. If an animal is removed, a written appeal letter may be submitted. Appeals should be submitted in writing to the Executive Vice President within 48 hours after removal of the animal. The written appeal must provide solid proof that the violations were unfounded or a reason that the circumstances have changed.

Should an ESA be removed from the premises, the handler is expected to fulfill their housing obligations for the remainder of the housing contract.

Service Animals Policy

Georgetown College Service Animals Policy

Under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), Service Animals are defined as dogs that are individually trained to do work or perform tasks for people with disabilities. Service Animals are working animals, not pets. The work or task a dog has been trained to provide must be directly related to the person's disability.

Examples of such work or tasks include (but are not limited to):

- Guiding people who are blind
- Alerting people who are deaf
- Pulling a wheelchair
- Alerting and protecting a person who is having a seizure
- Reminding a person with mental illness to take prescribed medications
- Performing other duties directly related to the person's disability

Dogs whose sole function is to provide comfort or emotional support do not qualify as Service Animals under the ADA (2010 Revised Regulations of the ADA; DOJ, 2011).” A student seeking an Emotional Support Animal (ESA) accommodation may refer to Georgetown College's ESA Policy.

When it is not obvious what service an animal provides, Georgetown College employees may ask the following questions: 1.) Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability, and 2.) What work or task has the dog been trained to perform that is related to this disability?

Students are requested to register their Service Animal with the Disability Services Office if it will be residing in campus housing. This registry includes identification information of the animal, contact information of the handler, and current vaccination records.

Service Animal Handler Responsibilities

A. Service Animals can accompany their handlers across various settings on the College campus including, but not limited to, residence halls, classrooms, the cafeteria, the Student Center, the REC, and the LRC. Under the ADA, the College must allow “Service Animals to accompany people with disabilities in all areas of the facility where the public is normally allowed to go.” Exceptions might include areas in which the Service Animal may be in danger, or where their use may compromise the integrity of research or cause health concerns.

B. The handler of a Service Animal shall comply with all laws, local licensure and vaccination requirements, and College regulations. All vaccination records must be current and are requested to be on file with Disability Services.

C. The care and supervision of the Service Animal is the responsibility of the handler. Under the ADA, Service Animals must be harnessed, leashed, or tethered, unless these devices interfere with the work of the Service Animal or the individual's disability prevents using these devices. In that case, the handler must maintain control of the animal through voice, signal, or other effective controls. Care includes maintaining the well-being of the animal (feeding, administering flea/tick/heartworm medications, etc.).

D. The handler shall dispose of the animal's waste in a safe and sanitary manner.

E. The handler may be charged for any damage caused by his or her Service Animal beyond reasonable wear and tear to the same extent that other students are charged for damages beyond reasonable wear and tear. This includes any pest infestation (such as fleas or ticks) beyond standard pest treatment for the residence hall.

F. The handler cannot be asked to remove his/her Service Animal from the campus unless:

- a. the dog is out of control (e.g. barking incessantly, wandering, displaying aggressive behavior) and the handler does not take effective action to control it,
- b. the dog is not housebroken, or
- c. the dog poses a direct threat to the health or safety of others that cannot be eliminated or reduced to an acceptable level by a reasonable modification to other policies, practices and procedures.

When there is legitimate reason to ask that a Service Animal be removed, the staff must offer the handler the opportunity to obtain goods or services without the animal's presence.

G. Service animals on campus must be under the control of their handlers at all times. They cannot be left in the care of another person or overnight in the residence hall without the presence of their handler.

Disability Service Complaint Procedures

Georgetown College Disability Service Complaint Procedures

Georgetown College's Disability Services complaint process serves to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Section 504 mandate to "provide for prompt and equitable resolution of complaints alleging any action that would be prohibited."

The Disability Services office develops accommodations plans via an interactive, individualized process. In the event that a student's needs change or it becomes evident that the accommodations plan is not sufficient to meet the student's need for access, the student may contact the Disability Services Coordinator to make adjustments to their accommodations plan. If, through this process, a student disagrees with the accommodations that they have received or if the student has been denied accommodation(s), the student may choose to file a complaint through the outlined complaint process.

Complaints Regarding Implementation of Accommodations Plan

If a student believes that they have been denied an accommodation that has been granted by the Disability Services Office in their agreed-upon accommodations plan, and informal conversations have not resolved this complaint, they may use the following process to address the complaint:

Step 1: Contact the Disability Services office to submit a written or recorded complaint as soon as possible following the event which instigated the complaint(s). The student may submit any supplemental evidence to the Disability Services office at this time, though this is not necessary if no such evidence exists.

Step 2: The Disability Services Coordinator will contact the relevant faculty member or campus office representative to follow-up regarding receipt of the complaint.

Step 3: If the complaint is not resolved at this time, the Disability Services Coordinator will contact the Provost following the conversation outlined in Step 2.

Step 4: If a student disagrees with the Disability Services Coordinator's initial assessment of the resolution of this complaint, they may contact the Provost with this complaint within ten (10) working days of the communication of resolution from the Disability Services Coordinator to the student.

If it is determined later that a resolution plan is not being implemented, the student should contact the Disability Services Coordinator in order to investigate this complaint in conjunction with the Provost.

Complaints Regarding the Denial of Accommodations Plan

If a student believes that they have been wrongfully denied a necessary accommodation throughout the accommodations process, and informal conversations have not resolved this complaint, they may use the following process to address the complaint:

Step 1: Contact the Executive Vice President to submit a written or recorded complaint as soon as possible following the event(s) which instigated the complaint.

Step 2: The Executive Vice President will investigate the complaint. Depending on the situation, the Executive Vice President may appoint the direct supervisor of the complaint recipient to investigate the complaint.

Step 3: The Executive Vice President will work with all parties involved to explore a mutually agreeable resolution of the complaint in a way that preserves all essential competencies of the degree programs at Georgetown College and protects students' right to access as outlined under Section 504 of the ADA.
